

Dear Canada, Say Hi To Zara.com

Posted by Dani on March 6, 2013

Today is an exciting day for fashion lovers – Zara is launching their online store in Canada. Finally, Zara's trendy and affordable fashions are available at the click of a button. I was invited to preview the new online shop, and it was great to be able to jazz up my wardrobe while lounging on the couch with a cup of tea.

I have always loved looking online for my home décor purchases, but I've been a little cautious with fashion because I really prefer to try on clothes before I buy. But my girls have convinced me to join the online world. They are comfortable buying anything online – my oldest girl and her friends are busy these days looking for prom dresses on the net. Checking reviews and size charts helps eliminate the guesswork, and Zara has an easy and accommodating return policy. There really is no downside! I actually liked seeing the clothing on a model rather than a hanger, because I was able to see how the pieces were supposed to hang. And nothing beats shopping from the comfort of your own home, and then getting a surprise in the mail.

Zara is selling their full range of men's, women's, and children's clothing. I chose a few tops to go with some new skinnies I just bought. And now I get to sit back while Zara delivers them to my door. Love!

