

ZARA TO LAUNCH ONLINE SHOPPING TO CANADIANS ON MARCH 6

If you are an avid online shopper like me and live somewhere in Canada, you will be pleased to know that Zara will be extending their online shopping experience for Canadians starting March 6 – so mark your calendars Ladies & Gents!

While the thought of shopping online is probably not 'new' news, it is good to know that Retailers are taking online shopping as a means to maximize consumer shopping experience.

And if the news isn't exciting enough, just take a look at some of the drool worthy pieces from their February lookbook!

The cuts, the colors, are so very Céline in its minimalistic style – while I often find that I do need to actually try on the clothes from Zara in store, atleast I know that I have the option in case I absolutely need something sold out in stores.

What are your thoughts on the lookbook above? Loving it or feeling like it is all too familiar? Share your thoughts by commenting below!

-Yxo